

Homework 8

Not due

No time for grading, let alone revision, but these are some nice practice problems to let you think about how E-R diagrams work.

Problem 8.1

Give appropriate E-R diagrams for databases matching the following descriptions:

- A movie database that keeps track of people in the movie industry and their involvements in various movie projects
- A travel agent that books flights for their clients
- A mail-order company that people can buy stuff from online, and needs to keep track of what's currently ordered and being shipped out; note that customers may have separate billing and shipping addresses